From enrollment to now as his math teacher and class teacher I believe that he is a smart, studious, high quality and potential learning student. Mathematics learning requires a quick thinking, independent thinking and the spirit of inquiry, which XXX possesses. 第16篇: 高中英语介绍信作文万能

Today many college students have their own hobbies. For example, some of them like singing; some of them enjoy playing the guitar; some of them are keen on painting; some of them are crazy about taking photos, and so on.

I think it's meaning for college students to have hobbies, ()because hobbies can benefit them a lot. On one hand, after a long-time study, hobbies can make them feel relaxed. On the other hand, when they feel depressed, hobbies can bring them happiness. Furthermore, hobbies can mould their temperament as well as show their characteristics.

However, some students are so addicted to their hobbies that they spend less time on study. How foolish of them to do so! In my view, if we focus too much on one thing, either our studies or hobbies will be badly affected. Thus, we are supposed to balance them in a proper way.
